Six adults arrested for selling alcohol to minors

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Graduation and prom are right around the corner and officers with the Belle Glade Police Department are taking a hard look at drinking by minors...and the adults who are providing the alcohol.

Last Thursday evening, police and the Division of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Fire Arms conducted a joint operation into the illegal sales of alcohol and tobacco to minors. They had received complaints from parents and anonymous tipsters that adults were selling beer to underage drinkers.

They arrested five adults for either selling or giving alcohol to minors, one as young as 14. Lt. Albert Dowdell says police officers will be cracking down on the illegal sale of alcohol to minors, with the goal of keeping these kids from drinking and driving during graduation time, and possibly saving lives by making arrests.

"We have to do what we can to save these children," said Lt. Dowdell. "We're going to stop this as much as we can by being diligent and arresting anyone caught selling alcohol to minors."

Lt. Dowdell said he watched Thursday as an adult entered a Belle Glade store, purchased beer and then took it outside to the 14-year-old boy. The minor then paid for the beer with food stamps. Both were arrested.

Those arrested included: Maria Rodriguez, 33; Louletione Bonette, 40; Himilata Patel, 33; Gwendolyn Knowles, 50; Barbara Smith, 31; and the 14-year old was charged with possession of alcohol by a minor.

Two Pahokee men die in alcohol-related crash

Florida Highway Patrol officials say two Pahokee men died at the scene after driving off the road at a high rate of speed Saturday in the early-morning hours. Juan A. Delacruz and Jorge Delacruz, both 24, died after their car hit a concrete bridge abutment on State Road 15 north of Belle Glade. Officials say the accident was alcohol related.

Prior to police arrival, the money in Juan Delacruz' wallet was stolen by a man witnesses described as a black man with gold teeth in the front. The suspect fled in a green car.

Jorge Delacruz was employed with Glades Carpet, Ceramic and Vinyl Tile Floor Service. Juan Delacruz worked in construction. Bennett Funeral Home in Pahokee handled arrangements for the funeral of both men which was held Wednesday, May 14.

Chamber mixer is tonight

The Belle Glade and Pahokee Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring their Chamber Mixer Thursday, May 15 beginning at 5:30 p.m. at the old Glades Central High School in the Media Center. Chamber members are encouraged to attend and enjoy the fellowship and card exchange.

STRONG WORDS FROM STRONG-BODIED MEN...The Power Team was in the Glades this past week, giving demonstrations of their muscle power in the schools during the day and alter calls in the evenings. They challenged the kids to be "dream makers, not dream breakers and live a life free of drugs and alcohol" during their talks at 12 area schools.

Pahokee Youth Facility gets new administrator

A new facility administrator has been selected at the Pahokee Youth Development Center. Inger Cheves, a Pahokee native, has accepted the position, effective immediately. She replaces Michael Higgins, who resigned after seven months as the administrator.

The 350-bed youthful offender facilities is contracted between Correctional Services Corporation, The Florida Department of Juvenile Justice, and The Correctional Privatization Commission. Ms. Cheves' appointment was made public to the facility's Community Advisory Board and key leaders in Pahokee during a recent board meeting at the facility.

Ms. Cheves is a graduate of Pahokee High School and St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas, where she received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology and Gerontology. Her nine-year-old son, Vincent, attends school at K.E. Cunningham/Canal Point Elementary School. Ms. Cheves is a member of the Glades Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

"We are pleased that Ms. Cheves has accepted the challenge," said Michael Garretson, chief operating officer for the Sarasota-based company.

President of Atlantic Sugar dies in car crash

Francisco "Pancho" Pons, president and chairman of Atlantic Sugar Corp. died in a car accident, Thursday, May 8.

He was well known in the sugar industry and worked for 50 years in the sugar industry as a trader, broker, grower and miller.

Mr. Pons was born in Havana, Cuba and worked in the sugar industry in Cuba until he was exiled in 1960. He worked on Wall Street for a time until taking a job in 1967 as a sugar trader and broker in New York.

He then went to work at Atlantic Sugar, owned primarily by the Fanjul family of Palm Beach.

Survivors include his wife, Berta Pons; daughters Beatriz Corrales and Ina Rosell; a stepson, Pedro Rivero of Wellington; a sister, Maria Gloria Tapia of Madrid, Spain; seven grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

Five Belle Glade farm families honored by Farm Credit Service

Five Belle Glade families were among those receiving special recognition for more than 20 farm families representing Florida's leading agricultural commodities and who have been member-borrowers of Farm Credit Service of South Florida, ACT, for three generations, or 50 years. The event highlighted the 80th Anniversary Annual Meeting of the farmer-owned cooperative in West Palm Beach.

The Joe Tom Boynton family, the Rick Roth family, the John Schlechter family, the Fritz Stein family, and the Ruth Wedgworth family, all of whom are among the pioneering families in Glades agriculture, were represented for the award presentations.

The recognition of the pioneer farm families came as Farm Credit of South Florida concluded a record-setting year.

"The loyalty of these families to Farm Credit has insured not only our success in the past but also that we will remain here to serve the future generations of farmers and ranchers of South Florida," said William E. "Billy" Bowman, Jr., chairman of the board of Farm Credit of South Florida, and a dairy cattle farmer in central Palm Beach County.

Congressman Mark Foley of West Palm Beach was among those congratulating the honorees.

"We are pleased to report 1996 was a record year of profits in spite of the adverse economic conditions faced by the majority of our borrowers," said Don Rice, the cooperative's president and CEO.

Distribution of refunds to the member-borrowers amounted to $5.2 million in 1996, Mr. Rice announced. Farm Credit of South Florida is a farmer and rancher-owned cooperative offering farm-related financial services including long term farm and country home loans, machinery, farm and ranch equipment and buildings, short term production loans, and farm-related insurance and leasing services. The South Florida cooperative serves agricultural interests in Indian River, Okeechobee, St. Lucie, Martin, Palm Beach, Broward, Dade and Monroe Counties from four branch offices located in Lake Worth, Okeechobee, Ft. Pierce and Homestead.

Fresh vegetables and citrus, sugar cane, beef and dairy, sugar cane, sod and ornamental agriculture are represented among the some 600 farms and ranches served by the cooperative.

"Because we are a farmer-managed cooperative, Farm Credit of South Florida distributes our profits back to our borrowers, thereby reducing substantially the effective cost of farm borrowing," said Mr. Rice.

EDUCATION & SCHOOL NEWS

THE GREAT MAIL RACE AT KEC/CANAL POINT ELEMENTARY... Mrs. Sprouse's third grade class at Kathryn E. Cunningham/Canal Point Elementary School will be taking part in "The Great Mail Race." They will mail a letter to an elementary school in each state. Their letters will tell about our soil, sugar cane, vegetables, Lake Okeechobee, weather and other wonderful facts about living in the Canal Point area. They hope to receive letters from other third graders in all fifty states.

Glades Day School Gator Tales

Glades Day School's seniors are chomping at the bit as their last week of classes winds down. Friday (5/16) is the last full day for the seniors. They will return next week for final exams and then it's rehearsal time for commencement exercises on May 30. Graduation will be held once again on the school's football field, weather permitting. If the weather doesn't cooperate, the ceremony will be moved to the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

The reorganization of the Gator Band has begun with long-time band director Mr. Fred Stevens taking over for the rest of this year and will lead the band members in 1997/98. This is Mr. Stevens' third time directing the band and student interest is catching on. Along with more members, we anticipate a need for more school band instruments. Some of the students buy or rent their own, but it would be of great help to have some, on hand, by the school. Anyone who would like to donate a new or used instrument will certainly be appreciated. A letter of donation for tax purposes can be provided for the donor.

Anyone interested in donating an instrument may contact the high school office (996-6769) or call Mr. Stevens at 996-3506.

GDS students got a first-hand look at "strength through Christ" when the Power Team put on a demonstration for the elementary and high school last Friday, May 9. The members, who were having nightly shows at Glades Central's gymnasium, also put on a special exhibition at Glades Day's Tripp Hall. They impressed the young and old alike with their feats of power and at the same time delivered a message about Christ. Needless to say, they reached out and touched a lot of minds.

Mrs. Mann's eighth grade earth science students are learning a bit more about the solar system this week as they put finishing touches on their space projects this week. The projects, which include a report along with visual aid, will be on display through this Friday, May 16.

Congratulations are in order for the new Little Mr. & Miss GDS: cuties Drew Fontaine and Alana Byrd. Drew, the son of Andy and Marilu Fontaine is in Pre-K3. Alana, a Pre-K4 student, is the daughter of Patty and Winston Byrd. First runner-up for the boys was Chase Courson and for the girls, Allison Doney. Congratulations, once again!

Pioneer Park Elementary students are taught to believe in themselves through martial arts demo

By Stephanie Schneider
Sun Reporter

When one first sees Robert Caultlett, his promises to break boards and concrete slabs are met with doubtful responses, at first. Then the slender whirlwind shows his stuff.

The same children who first doubted his ability were quieted with sheer disbelief. Mouths were gaping and eyes were glued to this 22-year-old Tai Quan Do student who seemed to break solid wood with ease. Disbelieving students turned into his biggest fans.

Robert doesn't let the fact that he holds the attention of hundreds of normally rowdy and talkative elementary students go to his head. He soon leads his demonstration of martial arts into a talk about self-respect and believing in one's self. He asked the students if they believed they could break bricks and boards. Many replies were along the lines of, "Yea right! Okay! Whatever!"

When Robert told them that though he may break wood and concrete with his hands and feet, the biggest part of being able to do it is actually believing he can. Attitudes changed. Suddenly students were saying that they could do that also and they believed in themselves.

Robert has been studying the art of Tai Quan Do, for over 18 years and he trains at his family's studio located at 11150 Okeechobee Blvd., Royal Palm Beach, FL 33411.

TAKING TIME TO SIGN AUTOGRAPHS... Robert Caultlett took time after his demonstration to sign some autographs for his newest and adoring fans.

A Call to Arms for Volunteers

By Paula Swaford, RN

The old adage goes something like this: "If you want something done ask a busy person to do it." Why does it seem that a select few are involved in so many things? Familiar faces shine from the pages of the local newspapers as to their involvement with numerous civic groups, organizations, popular groups, clubs and committee after committee. You may have asked yourself how they do it, but the question is not "how" but "why." I assure you it is not so that someone will come along and pat them on the back for a job well done. Most of the time, that does not happen.

If you stop someone on the street, they are usually willing to volunteer their opinion about almost any topic. But just ask them to volunteer their time to a worthy cause and note the reaction you receive. "I just don't have time" or "I have a family to take care of" or "I'm way too tired to help you", are just a few of the excuses.

Last week President Clinton and other members of government held a summit on becoming a volunteer. They targeted all the specific groups such as children's interests, the poor and underprivileged, and the elderly and encouraged the public to make a commitment to make a difference in their own communities. The expectations are high for the nation to come together and work together. However, this will not happen if people keep looking to their friends and neighbors, or someone else to get the job done, instead of volunteering themselves.

Many Americans have adopted a rather disgusting habit of holding out their hand to be paid for everything they do. Why do you think that unselfish acts of kindness tend to make front page news? Years ago, they were commonplace; people seemed to enjoy and gain satisfaction from lending a hand in needful situations. Today we have an organization in our community that needs your help.

Hendry County Emergency

Management, headed by Judi Kennington-Korf, is an integral part of our communities. Nationally and locally we have witnessed horrible floods, devastating fires, tornadoes, hurricanes, etc. Do we think we will continue to escape being hit with one of these indefinitely? How many people do you know that will volunteer to assist? Or will it be "every man for himself"?

In the coming months, you will be reading articles about disaster shelters and PSN (Persons with Special Needs) shelters.

Emergency Management needs volunteers from the medical community including physicians, nurses (RNs and LPNs) and CNAs to provide medical guidance in the shelters. Persons from public works, law enforcement, environmental health, firefighters and the community in general are needed.

I challenge you to come out of your safe little cocoons and give your time, your talents, and your expertise. The rewards you will receive from doing this will far outweigh the risks. Give Judi Kennington-Korf a call at 941-983-1594 or 561-675-5255 to volunteer your help. Until next time... stay informed and stay healthy.

Therapeutic Massage and Chiropractic Can Help Ease Your Aches and Pains

By Bernard Stern, D.C.

Therapeutic massage is a wonderful compliment to chiropractic treatment. Massage treatments directly benefit restrictions to muscle tissue function. Mechanical benefits and reflex responses combine to help the muscular soft tissue respond through circulation improvement and elimination of cellular waste products. Mechanical effects on muscular tissues include influence on the stretch receptors, tendon apparatus and direct manual stretching of the muscle fibers. The reflex effects encourage relaxation of the tissues through change in the motor nerve output and chemical secretions.

Now, let's answer some common questions about chiropractic.

Q. What is chiropractic?
A. Chiropractic is based on the scientific fact that your body is a self-regulating, self-healing organism. These important functions are controlled by the brain, spinal cord and all the nerves of the body.

The skull protects the delicate tissues of the brain. The moving bones of the spine protect the vulnerable communication pathways of the spinal cord and nerve roots. If the nervous system is impaired, it can cause malfunction of the tissues and organs throughout the body. Doctors call this the Vertebral Subluxation Complex. Vertebral, meaning the bones of the spine. Subluxation, meaning less than a total dislocation. Complex, meaning consisting of more than one part.

Chiropractic is the science of locating offending spinal structures, the art of reducing their impact to the nervous system and the philosophy of all things natural.

Q. What do chiropractic doctors do?

A. Helping to restore proper spinal biomechanics and improved nervous system function begins with a case history. This gives the doctor a background about your health, such as surgeries, accidents, the onset of your condition and other details affecting your current health.

After reviewing your history and discussing your specific problem, a thorough orthopedic, neurological and chiropractic examination is performed. X-rays may be taken to uncover structural and functional problems associated with the spinal column. These examinations help identify areas of spinal malfunction and resulting nervous system deficit.

The finding of these examinations are explained and a plan of chiropractic adjustments are recommended. Progress is monitored with periodic examinations and follow-up reports.

Since the word "doctor" comes from the Latin word meaning "teacher", regardless of your doctor's unique clinical approach, he or she has a strong commitment to patient education.

Q. How long will I need chiropractic care?

A. Spinal problems, neglected since early childhood, may require ongoing supportive care for optimum spinal function. These longstanding problems are often associated with muscle weakness, soft tissue damage and degenerative changes to the spine.

Most patients find that periodic chiropractic checkups help keep them in tip-top shape. Those who are active, have stressful jobs or want to be their very best, find that a schedule of preventive care is helpful in the maintenance of good health.

How long you decide to benefit from chiropractic care is always up to you.

Q. What type of educa-

Bernard Stern, D.C.

tion do chiropractic doctors get?

A. Today's Doctor of Chiropractic is well educated.

The science of chiropractic requires a special emphasis on anatomy, physiology, pathology, neurology, biomechanics, X-ray, spinal adjustment techniques and related subjects. This demanding curriculum prepares chiropractic doctors to locate the Vertebral Subluxation Complex and help correct the resulting nervous system dysfunction.

To graduate with a Doctor of Chiropractic degree, each candidate passes the demanding National Board Examination. Then, doctors apply to a governmental or professional licensing board and pass a still more difficult test before being granted the privilege to practice.

A chiropractic education never ends. Most doctors complete postgraduate instruction for license renewal and to stay current on the latest scientific research.

Cyclospora Parasite Returns to Palm Beach County in 1997

The first case of Cyclospora for the 1997 spring season has been confirmed by the County Health Department. Health officials are reminding all residents that the symptoms of the Cyclospora parasite include prolonged diarrhea, nausea, fatigue, stomach cramps, fever and often appetite and weight loss. If people suspect that they have become infected they should seek medical attention.

Dr. Jean Malecki, Palm Beach County's Health Director, urges everyone to wash thoroughly all fruits and vegetables. However, there are no guarantees that such washing will remove the microscopic organism. It is believed when produce comes in contact with contaminated water or soil it can then become a carrier of Cyclospora.

There were 106 confirmed cases of Cyclospora in Palm Beach County according to 1996 statistics. If left untreated, the illness can last up to 2 months. The drug used in treatment is the antibiotic Trimethoprim-sulfamethoxazole.

Sherry, Massage Therapist & Dr. Stern, Chiropractor, welcome you to come let them ease your pain. Belle Glade Chiropractic 996-7801

Glades General Hospital's "Fitness Fun Fest"

National Employee Health and Fitness Day is Wednesday, May 21. To celebrate this day, the Cardiac Rehabilitation and Wellness Center at Glades General Hospital is having its first ever "Fitness Fun Fest".

Employees have been participating in a contest running from April 23 through May 20. Points are earned as follows: "Sue's Super Circuit", named for Director of Food Services Sue Maggio, entails starting on the first floor of the hospital, climbing the stairs to the third floor and crossing to the other end of the hospital for the trip back down to the first floor. This earns ten points.

"Venugopal Victory Lap", so named for cardiologist Chandra Venugopal, is an outside course around the hospital that adds up to one half mile. The lap is worth five points.

"Mary March", named for Director of Nursing Mary Weeks, earns three points for every climb UP one flight of stairs (down doesn't count).

"Palacio Points", named for Doctor of Internal and Family Medicine Jesus Palacio, can only be earned on Tuesdays and Thursdays by riding a bike or walking the treadmill for five minutes in the Cardiac Rehabilitation and Wellness exercise room.

A "Tori Loop", so named for Director of the Critical Care Unit Lori Guerrero, is a walk of the length of the main hallway from the OB nursery through Physician's Park and back again. This earns two points.

A "Patty Poo-Hoo", named for Director of Med/Surg and Pediatrics Patty Hood, is a deduction. Participants must subtract one point from their days total score if they use the elevator at all.

Prizes will be awarded on Wednesday, May 21 (National Employee Health and Fitness Day) in the cafeteria at noon. First place receives $100. Second place is awarded $50 and third place receives $25.

Many employees are enthusiastically participating. Some folks are even coming in on their days off to earn points. The contest is a fun way to get employees physically active. Physical activity benefits the body in so many ways. Being active improves fitness, lowers risk of heart attack, prevents adult-onset diabetes, relieves tension and stress, helps achieve/maintain healthy weight and prevents or helps reduce high blood pressure.

Winners and their pictures will be published in the May 22 issue of The Sun.

Some people are so fond of ill luck that they run half-way to meet it.

"I am a concerned citizen. We all have to buy a license or get a certificate to hold a yard sale. These people who sit on the street in the morning and sell candy to the children who are coming to school, I wonder, have they been checked out?"
Thank you."

Bad drivers

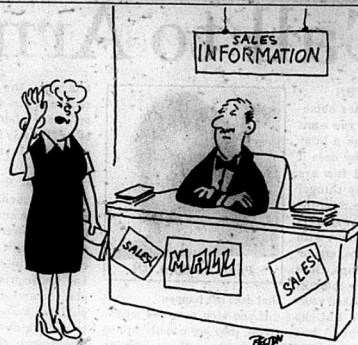

"Yes, I would like to know where is the law enforcement presence on old SR 80 (880)? All these people who are too good to live in Belle Glade but good enough to come and take our local jobs are hauling butt back and forth between Palm Beach and Belle Glade. They are running people about off the road, driving like lunatics and there's no police out there giving tickets."
Just curious. Thanks."

Chief Miller responds: "Thank you to the citizens who expressed their concerns. I will investigate and address these matters. If you would like to provide more specific information, please call me or come by the police department."

Business owners abused?

"There has been much discussion in the past few years about how to promote the Glades and how to get new businesses into the Glades. No one addresses the issue of the real problem in the Glades which is the abuse that the business owners suffer just trying to conduct a normal work day. When you go into a business and you watch, and listen, it is really sad the abuse that the clerks and the business owners have to accept in order to do business. Most people in Belle Glade who are in business, if they could take their investment and go elsewhere, and they probably would. Until this issue is addressed, downtown will not grow and neither will the Glades."
Thank you."

"Going postal" - What does the term really mean?

By Linda Wright
Fort Wayne, Indiana
Re-printed with permission
A recent news report in our evening paper (The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel) was headlined, "Postal Worker Commits Crime". The crime had nothing to do with the work place, yet the person's occupation was named.

"Why don't we read these teasers: Carpenter rams Bus, or Nurse Steals Cosmetics, or V.P. Molests Child? For some years now, it's been great sport to bash the unassuming postal worker. We are maligned in the press, and we are the butt of jokes by the four L's: Leno, Letterman (no pun intended), Liddy, and Limbaugh. "Going Postal" has entered the lexicon, and Mr. Liddy's daily reference to "snail mail" has grown tiresome.

Just who is this miscreant known familiarly as a postal worker? Well, many of us are teachers outside the classroom. We're Pee Wee and Little League coaches. We're also writers and artists, pilots and volunteer firemen, dancers and jazz musicians, guitarists and pianists, choir members and ministers. We're your brothers and sisters, mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers. We're your next door neighbor. Let's take a look at what "Going Postal" means to a letter carrier, commonly referred to as your mailman.

It's starting while many of you are still in bed. It's standing for hours, sorting and sequencing letters from your friends and loved ones. It's walking five or six hours delivering those letters, in weather ranging from a 50 degrees below zero wind chill to a heat index over one hundred degrees.

"Going Postal" is delivering cards written by a child's hand, addressed only to Grandma Smith on Parnell Avenue or, a letter with a shaking hand, addressed only to: Mabel in the yellow and white house on St. Joe Boulevard. And, believe it or not, many times those letters get there!

It's delivering Social Security checks to anxiously awaiting recipients, welfare checks to those unable or unwilling to work, and disability checks to the unfortunate. Many are delivered, door-to-door, in areas that you choose to avoid as "unsafe".

"Going Postal" is helping a lost motorist, pedestrians, children, and pets, find their way again. It's receiving stitches every year or so from Fido. Perhaps yours. You know, the one "who wouldn't hurt a flea." Then returning, with tidiness, the next day to deliver your mail again. It's saving lives each year, by rescuing patrons from burning homes and helping the elderly who have become so ill they cannot reach the phone. It's kind words to people who have been forgotten by their families.

"Going Postal" is creating and managing one of the largest food drives in the nation. Collecting millions of pounds each year, for our local food banks. It's scrapes, bumps, bruises, and torn clothes received by going up and down ice covered porches and steps to pick up outgoing mail at your door, even when there is no delivery so you won't have to walk to your local drop box.

It's moving mountains of letters daily, many times door-to-door across the country, for less than the cost of a candy bar, with 99 percent on time, and to the correct address. Yes, what American, besides Messieurs Leno, Letterman, Liddy and Limbaugh, and our media editors, wouldn't be proud to be "Going Postal"? I know for one, I am.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:
Thanks so much for your help in my campaign. Your unbiased coverage was welcome. Thanks for printing my last letter. My campaign was low-key and clean...thanks to you and your paper.
Thanks again.

UF Researcher: "What does your wife do?" symbolizes change

By Cathy Keen
University of Florida News

The rise in abortions, divorces and women in the labor force represent greater equality between the sexes and not a moral breakdown of society, a University of Florida researcher says in a new book.

"Despite nostalgia about the 'good old days,' few people actually want to return to those times as they really were, when divorce was an oddity and women bore lots of children," said Leonard Beeghly, a UF sociologist and author of "What Does Your Wife Do? Gender and the Transformation of Family Life."

"Given a choice, women will get jobs, which produce not only income, but self-esteem. Given a choice, couples will have fewer children. Given a choice, men and women will escape wretched marriages."

"Living in an advanced capitalistic economy gives us choices that would have been impossible just a few years ago," Beeghly said. "One way, some people try to cope with change is by trying to bring back the past, where women stayed home to bear children, men earned a living and everyone knew their place. But this appeal to 'tradition' won't work."

It's no accident that divorce rates have risen steadily in all Western industrialized societies; they increase wherever modernization occurs, he said.

In the 19th century, when people lived on farms in relative isolation and spouses were economically dependent on one another, notions about a happy marriage were less important, Beeghly said. Even if people's relationships broke down or were abusive, few were in a position to divorce, he said.

Today, most people live in urban settings and both spouses often have incomes, Beeghly said. The opportunity to see many people—at the office, on the bus, in the supermarket—allows married couples to compare their relationship with others, and their independent incomes allow them to seek divorce if the marriage breaks down, he said.

"Even though we still treat women unequally in divorce and do not protect children well, the ability to divorce signifies greater equality between men and women," he said.

Modernization also brought an increase in abortion rates. As early as the late 1800s, when birth rates fell as a result of a decline in available farm land—the means to support a family—families became "child-centered" and couples wanted fewer children so they could nurture them properly, Beeghly said.

With no birth-control pill available, contraception alone was unlikely to explain the rapidly falling birth rates, Beeghly said. He uses the example of "Little House on the Prairie," in which Laura Ingalls Wilder describes growing up in the Midwest in the late 19th century.

"Her parents had only three children instead of the eight to 10 that would have been typical earlier in the century," he said. Although Laura is silent about how this was accomplished, it is probably that the couple practiced birth control; it is also possible that Ma Ingalls had an abortion. Remember, contraception was less effective then, and it only takes one failure for pregnancy to occur."

Although the abortion rate has risen in all Western societies, it is highest in the United States because public policy does not promote contraception, Beeghly said. In contrast, the Netherlands has a very low abortion rate despite levels of sexual activity among young people equal to those of the United States. The Dutch make birth control pills available without prescriptions and cover the expense in their

Godfrey retires from sugar industry

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

They say the third time's a charm and for Horace Godfrey it must be true. Mr. Godfrey is retiring... for the third time in his busy career, and this time, he says it's going to stick.

Friends, co-workers, family and admirers were on hand April 21 to toast and roast Mr. Godfrey, who is retiring as the senior consultant and Washington Representative to the Florida Sugar Cane League and Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers.

A "Horace Godfrey Appreciation Dinner" was held at the Marriott Hotel in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida. The event brought out top professionals in the cane and beet sugar industry as well as politicians on the state and national level.

Mr. Godfrey was instrumental in organizing the Florida Chapter of Women Involved in Farm Economics in the late 1970s, and is fondly remembered by those who worked with him through the years.

Charter Florida WIFE member Sandra Chamblee calls Mr. Godfrey "the Father of Florida WIFE." She says he told her about a wonderful group of women who were doing great work in Washington, DC. He helped make arrangements for Sandra and first Florida WIFE President Karen Spooner to come to Washington and meet with National WIFE members. This was at a time when everyone was gearing up for the 1980 Farm Bill.

"We owe a lot to Horace," said Sandra. "Without his encouragement and support, we wouldn't have learned about this fine organization which has been so beneficial to agriculture."

Mr. Godfrey retired in 1968 as the National Administrator for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service for USDA. He then went to work at the Florida Sugar Cane League in Clewiston, Florida. Prior to that he worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the state director of farm programs for North Carolina.

A letter of congratulations was read during the dinner from President Bill Clinton which included the statement "Your dedication to the public is an inspiration."

Others at the appreciation dinner spoke of also being inspired by Mr. Godfrey.

"I learned so much from you," said Nelson Fairbanks, President of U.S. Sugar Corporation, the largest cane-sugar mill in the United States, based in Clewiston, Florida. "Our industry has been blessed to have you," he told Mr. Godfrey. Mr. Fairbanks first worked with Horace when he was the director of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

Pepé Panul, President of Flo Sun, which has sugar cane mills in South Bay and Pahokee, Florida as well as cogeneration plants and holdings in the Dominican Republic, said "My father always told me 'stay close to Horace. He will teach you a lot,' and he did. Horace is a great thinker and a true friend to this industry."

Dalton Yancey, current Executive Director of the Washington office of the Florida and Rio Grande Sugar Cane League, said he also learned a lot from Mr. Godfrey and was grateful for the way the man shared his knowledge of the issues and his vast array of contacts. "He was a great help to me when I came to Washington 10 years ago," he said.

Van Olson, President of the Beet Sugar Alliance, roared Mr. Godfrey by calling him the Dean of Washington Ag Reps and "the oldest rat in the barn."

"I've drank to your good health so many times, I've ruined mine," he kidded.

Mr. Godfrey said he and wife, Clair, plan to retire in North Carolina. "Anything I have accomplished I give credit to Clair," he said.

He ended by saying, "I've been the luckiest man alive in many respects. Let me thank you for 27 wonderful years as a member of your family. God bless you."

Florida WIFE members who attended the dinner included Sandra Chamblee, former Florida WIFE President and former National Sugar Commodity Chair; Brenda Bunting, WIFEline Editor; Mary Orsingo, Vice President of Florida WIFE and Barbara Hilliard.

Florida Congressmen Alcee Hastings and Mark Foley, as well as former Congressman Tom Lewis also attended the dinner, as did George Wedgworth, President of Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida.

Horace Godfrey (L) was honored at a retirement party recently. Shown with Mr. Godfrey is his wife, Clair, and Dalton Yancey, Executive Director for the Washington office of the Florida and Texas Sugar Cane League.

You may be tempted to overdo things but step back and work to keep feelings in check. Others share your concerns but may be hesitant to take the lead. A small change could lead to improved health and fitness.

MARRIED LIFE

Home Alone ... at Last

Perfect Recipe for Newlyweds' First Dinner

The wedding and honeymoon are over, and you find yourself finally alone in your home as husband and wife.

First, pinch yourself to make sure it's real, then take a deep breath. Tomorrow you'll have to face "reality" and continue life as usual.

But for now, create one more memorable moment to keep you afloat on "cloud nine" a little longer with a meal the two of you will never forget.

Riunite, the Italian wine-maker and sponsor of the $50,000 dream wedding contest, has an idea for your first meal that is simple to prepare, covers every detail from wine to sweets and is sure to make your evening a romantic success.

This is one of five ideas for celebrations during this special time in your life offered in Riunite's guide to entertaining, "From Bride-To-Be-To-Newlywed ... Five Entertaining Scenarios To Get You To Happily Ever After."

Your first romantic dinner begins with a chilled glass of Riunite Pinot Grigio or Riunite Chardonnay and a sampling of fresh fruit, cheese and French bread. Next, the guide suggests an entree of swordfish steak topped with shrimp in a mustard sauce accompanied by baby greens in a lemon-mustard vinaigrette. For the finale, end with a luscious dark chocolate creme brulee served with a dazzling glass of Riunite's Royal Raspberry over cracked ice. One last tip — don't forget to chill the wine, turn on some soft music and dim the lights.

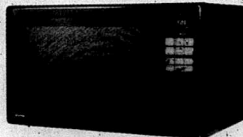

There is no need to search for the perfect meal because Riunite has done it all for you. In addition to offering entertaining ideas and menus, Riunite's booklet includes tips for table decor including flowers, linens and candles to set the ambience of the evening.

July 1, 1997 is deadline for Bright Futures Scholarship applicants

TALLAHASSEE - Education Commissioner Frank T. Brogan today announced that the Florida Department of Education has established a deadline of July 1, 1997 for all Florida high school students applying for a Bright Futures scholarship funded by the Florida Lottery.

"Students who believe they may be eligible for a Bright Futures scholarship should immediately contact their guidance counselor for an application," said Commissioner Brogan, who has pushed for enactment of the Lottery-funded scholarship program since the fall of 1995. "The department will work with students through July 1 to process applications. We want to assist as many students as possible to continue their education," said Brogan.

The Florida Department of Education has already received approximately 42,000 applications for the new Bright Futures scholarships. The Legislature appropriated $74 million to fund three specific scholarships through Bright Futures:

- Florida Merit Scholars - For students with a 3.0 GPA and a minimum Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) score of 970. Merit Scholars will receive 75 percent of tuition and required fees.
- Florida Academic

Scholars

For students with a 3.5 GPA in a college preparatory curriculum and a minimum 1270 SAT score. National Merit Scholars and students completing an International Baccalaureate program will automatically be eligible. Scholarships are for tuition, fees, and $600 for books.

Florida Gold Seal Vocational Scholarships - For students with a 3.0 overall GPA in all subjects required for graduation, as well as a 3.5 overall GPA in vocational and technology education courses, completion of at least a two year sequential vocational or technical education program and a passing score on the Florida College Placement Test. Scholarships are for 75% of tuition and required fees.

The bill passed by lawmakers during the 1997 session will be signed into law within a week according to the governor's office. For additional information regarding Bright Futures, students and parents can contact the Florida Department of Education's Office of Student Financial Assistance at (904) 487-0049 or (904) 487-8320.

Black Sox Baseball to host 12-team softball tourney May 17

By Kalani Karratti
Okeechobee News

With the summer season just around the corner, there will be the annual Okeechobee Black Sox Softball tournament.

This year the tournament will be held in Okeechobee at the Okeechobee Softball Fields located at 92 N.W. 23 Lane (across from Yearling Middle School).

The tournament will be on Saturday, May 17, beginning at 9 a.m., be governed under I.S.A. Rules and will be limited to the first twelve teams. The cost is $150 per team with 2 home run hitters. There will also be prizes awarded to the first four teams eliminated from this double elimination tournament.

Sponsor trophies will be given to the top 3 places, including a $500 prize for first place and T-shirts for second and third places.

There will be lots of food and drinks to enjoy, plus lots of action that will keep you on the edge of your seats.

If you choose to accept the challenge, contact Mark Ward at (941) 357-0086.

Fishing with Walt Reynolds

Walt Reynolds

This has been a long week for us. We have been in six states and fished two national tours in all kinds of weather. It was a pleasant site to see the lights of Cleveland.

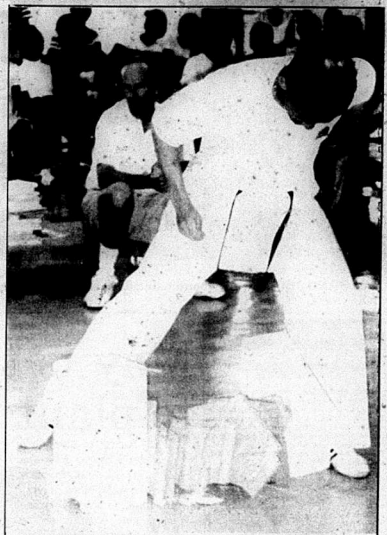

The bluegill and crappie fishermen are catching some really nice fish right now. The best bait seems to be grass shrimp. The West Wall area has a good number of fish there and the drop-offs along Bare Beach are also producing some good catches. The wind is the biggest factor in deciding where to fish as the water gets dirty in the exposed areas.

The bass fishing is fair to good in early mornings and evenings. Again the winds, and resulting water color are deciding factors in where to fish. The bass are moving to their summertime patterns and if the main lake clears up, we should see some good fishing on the spoil islands and areas such as the Airport Hole, Spinnerbats, Rattle Traps, and topwater baits will all work depending on the wind.

To all a good bite,

Walt Reynolds
Touring Pro.

BREAKING CONCRETE WITH BARE HANDS...Robert Caullert of Royal Palm Beach did a martial arts demonstration for the students at Pioneer Park Elementary where he broke bricks and concrete with his bare hands.

Colors of the Sky

By Mike Lyons

It can happen only at night, only during a full moon and only if the weather conditions are perfect. It's a very rare sight and chances are you've never seen it. It is a rainbow at night.

How can a rainbow develop in the dark? It's done with the light of the moon. That is why we call it a moonbow. A moonbow is created the same way as a rainbow. The ingredients include rain and the light of the moon.

A rainbow forms when raindrops reflect the sunlight. As light enters the raindrop the sun produces a spectrum of colors. The outside rim of the bow begins with reddish tones blending through parallel bands of yellow, green and blue to the inside of the rainbow.

It is a spectacular sight that we see quite often in Florida because of our abundant sunshine and frequent showers.

The same thing happens when a moonbow forms except that instead of sunlight the rainbow is made from the moonlight. Moonbows are not that pretty, however. In fact, most moonbows are gray.

The colors are still there, we just can't see them. When it is dark our eyes lack the sensitivity to see colors vividly. The colors we do see well at night are black, white and shades of gray. So a moonbow appears gray. However some eagle-eyed people have reported seeing faint colors in a moonbow.

That is assuming, of course, that you will ever see a moonbow. It is rare. In his study of weather called "Meteorology," Aristotle was the first to confirm the existence of moonbows.

Aristotle wrote "the rainbow occurs by day, and also by night, when it is due to the moon." He went on to write that a moonbow can only form "upon a single day of the month, the day of the full moon. For it is on that day that the phenomenon must occur if it is to occur at all, and occur then only at the moon's rising or setting."

That explains why a moonbow is so infrequent. You need a full moon, rising or setting, a shower in just the right place and a lot of luck. And since the colors are washed out anyway you may be looking right at a moonbow and not even know it.

As we enter Florida's rainy season this month, your chances of seeing a moonbow will increase. The best time to try is early in the morning just before sunrise. Showers often develop in the ocean during this period. Remember, you need a full moon setting in the western sky to make it work.

More common is something called a dewbow. These are completely circular rainbows that form on your front lawn containing heavy dew. You may have also seen a circular rainbow from an airplane. Occasionally, brilliant rainbows form in a perfect circle along the tops of clouds.

Another type of rainbow to watch out for is called a fogbow. These are colorless bows that form on the face of a dense bank of clouds. There is no color in a fogbow because the water droplets are tiny, usually less than 1/600 of an inch. The colors all merge until only white is visible. One person who saw a fogbow said it was like seeing the ghost of a rainbow.

Isn't it amazing what a bit of water and a shaft of light can create?
